Elect Wilson and Build Soup Houses

Municipal authorities fixed the method of feeding the idle working-men in the poverty-stricken days between 1892 and 1897, when the Cleveland brand of free trade closed American industries and sent millions of able men wandering aimlessly through the city streets or converted them into tramps and sent them preying on the country at large. In almost every large city in this land a sign bearing these words or their equivalent was posted in every ward:

The Ration for One Person This Day Will Be a Quart of Beef Soup and One Loaf of Bread.

A police officer and two helpers superintended the delivery of the food, on presentation of tickets issued by humane societies or overseers of the poor in a given district. On Saturdays the quantity of soup, varied to "Irish stew," was doubled, and there were two loaves of bread for the holder of a charity ticket. Pride fell from many a proud man and woman then. There were children at home and there was absolutely no money earned or to be earned. Under cover of night the soup kettles pushed to many a door that was wont to open to good cheer and a bountiful larder. This is an exact picture of the Cleveland days of free trade. They will return with the election of Wilson and a sympathetic congress.

That the democratic press of Nevada is hard pressed for legitimate news to be used in boosting the national candidates, is demonstrated by the nauseating articles now appearing in print. This merely shows the extremes that will be taken by the democracy in the hope of defeating Senator Massey and Congressman Roberts. The mule banner has been forced to the last ditch and is dying hard.

George Springmeyer, the perpetual candidate of Carson City, candidate for congress on the bull moose ticket, has not been heard from for over a month. It is a cinch George did not secure a chance at the $10,000 campaign sack or he might be campaigning the state with his running mate, Sad Summerfield, the alleged progressive senatorial candidate.

Political canards are now in order in the democratic party and the press of that faction is obeying orders to a nicety in starting a general and alluring crusade in a futile endeavor to elect at least one of their national candidates.

The state police have been ordered to mobilize at Ely. Mobilize appears a high sounding word for a force consisting of a captain and four sergeants and not a single private. Cluster should have been the word used.

Now that the baseball season has ended the revolution has started anew in Mexico. As soon as Roosevelt recovers and the election is over, the reading public may be treated to some real news.

Let us pray that some day a campaign will be witnessed without the democratic press of Nevada engaging in muddling. A clean campaign would be welcomed by the voters of this state.

Yesterday's issue of the Bonanza was a regular Cupid edition. Notices appeared concerning five weddings. All of which bear announcement that the season of cold nights is near at hand.

"Skinner returns from a well earned vacation" is the adroit manner in which the Carson News describes the return of the escaped Nye county murderer to the state prison.

The backers of the New York Giants continue to insist that they picked the best team, notwithstanding the fact that the Boston Red Sox won the majority of the games.

From present indications Servia, Greece and Bulgaria will enjoy a generous portion of Turkey for their Thanksgiving dinner.

The Reno Journal has changed editors again. Ten editors in four years is the record of the present management.

Doc Cook is about to break into print again with his theories as to who is the proper presidential candidate.

It is the man who will be elected to office in Nye county at the November polls and not the politician.

"Every Little Movement Has a Meaning All Its Own" does not apply to the third term movement.

The "Big Stick" was only a big bluff after all.

AMUSEMENTS

Butler Theater

At the Butler theater this evening a great program of pictures will be shown. "Rip Van Winkle," a Vitagraph two-reel picture, will be the feature. The legend was written by Washington Irving of the time of George III of England during the occupation of this country by the English. The story of Rip Van Winkle, the happy-go-lucky never-did-well, is well known to every child. Rip Van Winkle is portrayed by that famous actor, Mr. Robt. McWade Sr., who was associated so long with the famous Joe Jefferson. The splendid Vitagraph company carries out the other parts in their usual creditable way.

"Alone in New York," being the second story of "What Happened to Mary," produced in collaboration with the "Ladies' World." This story appears in the September number. Another picture to be shown is a big comedy entitled "A Tale of a Cat." Tomorrow, Pathe Weekly.

RIOT TRIAL IN PROGRESS

LAKE CHARLES, La., Oct. 18.—The prosecutor in the Grabow labor riot trial today continued taking evidence by which he seeks to prove that the riot, in which three were killed and two score wounded, resulted from a conspiracy of timber workers and that the defendants, P. R. Emerson and eight other members of the organization, are guilty of murder.

Alleged tampering with talesmen has been charged by the state.

WILL RESUME SEARCH FOR POTASH DEPOSITS

D. H. Walker, superintendent for the Railroad Valley company, came in yesterday to visit his family. Two of his drillers, R. B. Harshbarger and E. V. Gamble, accompanied him on the same mission.

Mr. Walker states drilling at hole No. 2 has been stopped pending the receipt of additional equipment. It is between 500 and 600 feet deep. The hole is being put down for the purpose of finding artesian water that will be used for irrigation. The company will soon start another hole to search for deposits of potash. The site of it will be selected as soon as possible by Superintendent Walker and E. E. Free, the soil expert in the employ of the company. An Empire core drill will be used there and is expected to give better satisfaction than the churn drill which will be used to find water. The search for potash will be resumed near the south end of the old lake bed and some miles from the first hole.—Ely Express.
